"DISCOVER THE HIDDEN LEADER IN YOU"

How to Access Your Inner Leadership Ability

Many students are showing up to college without life and leadership skills. More than 30% of college students drop out of college in their first year due to lack of life and leadership skills. They lack the skills for leading their lives, being on their own or successfully interacting with others to build meaningful relationships. In this powerful program designed for college students, Adam teaches college students how to discover the hidden leader that resides in all of us.
